

Martin Munte

Martin Munte holds a degree in Economics and Business Administration from the Vienna University of Economics and Business, with a focus on organization and international marketing. He began his career in the pharmaceutical industry in Sales at Zeneca and subsequently assumed senior roles in Sales & Marketing, Market Access, Pricing, Business Development and Regulatory Affairs at AstraZeneca and Roche, contributing to multiple successful product launches.

In 2009, he joined Amgen, where he served for ten years as General Manager for Austria, Turkey and Slovakia, holding full P&L responsibility and leading national organizations. He also served for three years as President of PHARMIG, the Austrian pharmaceutical association. In 2019, he relocated to Switzerland to lead European External Engagement at Amgen. Since July 2022, he has been Chief Executive Officer of Vaccentis AG, where he is responsible for corporate strategy, financing activities and stakeholder engagement.

